‘Nintendo Power’ Scans Disappeared From The Internet Archive

from the nintendon't dept Tue, Dec 6th 2022 08:05pm - Timothy Geigner

It was only some weeks back that we were discussing how a group of hobbyists were once again doing the culture preservation work that content creators should be doing in the form of a scan of every single Nintendo Power magazine and uploading it to the Internet Archive. At the time, you could go to the link for the project and view every magazine’s contents in its full antiquated glory. I finished that post off with the following line after ruminating that the view on this by Nintendo should be that this is pure preservation and not some kind of threat to its current business operations:

Hopefully Nintendo can manage to see that as well. Somehow, though, I suspect the lawyers already have pen to paper.

But, as I’m fond of saying, Nintendo is going to Nintendo. If you go to the site for the project now, you’ll see that the content has been replaced with a notice indicating that the content has been taken down. Annoyingly, the text displayed now doesn’t detail out why it’s been taken down, but rather indicates a bunch of possible reasons: TOS violations, a decision by the uploader, etc. Because of that, I can’t say for sure that Nintendo’s lawyers got involved to get this content taken down, but it’s a pretty safe bet. Why? Well, because the company has done this exact thing before. At that link, you can read a Wired post on how Nintendo took down 140 issues worth of scans, also from the Internet Archive, back in 2016.

The 140+ issues of classic gaming magazine Nintendo Power that were uploaded to the Internet Archive are once again the preserve of physical collectors and forgotten boxes stashed in attics. Nintendo, the original publisher of the title, has had the digital collection pulled. While no formal announcement has been given on the takedown, Nintendo of America told Polygon that it must “protect our own characters, trademarks and other content” and “the unapproved use of Nintendo’s intellectual property can weaken our ability to protect and preserve it, or to possibly use it for new projects.”

What’s clear here is that either Nintendo requested the content be taken down directly or either the Internet Archive or the uploader did so purely out of fear of Nintendo’s lawyers. Either way, as I’m often wont to do, I am happy to blame Nintendo for this.

And you really do have to keep it in your head that there both is no threat to Nintendo for not figuring out a way to allow this to exist, nor is Nintendo doing anything itself to achieve the same preservation efforts that the upload achieved. It’s not like there’s an official Nintendo site out there where all of this culture is being preserved. If there were, the IA.org scans wouldn’t need to exist.

It’s a net loss for culture, all because Nintendo just can’t stop being Nintendo.

IN DEFENCE OF THE INTERNET ARCHIVES - Old to the New, makes New to the WISE

A short article that I would define as 'Res ipsa loquitur' in the case of whether copyright infringement is a criminal act (i.e. causes damage, harm or loss) or whether it serves, to protect and preserve, creativity & humanity through all of its works whether its sounds, pictures or words if it found itself archived than it must of had worth to be cared about so much that someone dedicated time to put it up not for personal gain but simply to share & explain what made us and those before rather than letting its memory fade into the floor with the organic vessels that aren't here any more the future isn't something to be bought or sold its all of mankind's history immortal through legacy passed on genetically as well as through teachings of our roots and life's meaning and the only thing that's infringing is corporate "owners" of rights who didn't create shite they just exploited and swiped perverted its philosophies and made a monopoly and pushed the P.L.U.R. priority down to a statistic anomaly.... excluding Underground Hip-Hopper's, Obviously our roots so deep they call it hollow earth theory but mass media got the game locked tight and when lawsuits claim about rights they keep the original artist's out of sight they don't get any payouts not even recognition through shout outs I'm sure they'd even sue the artists, NO DOUBT!

If you signed a deal but just gave it out no profits theyd have to stop it no freebies for the poor who cant afford shit in fact....that would be interesting to see would the courts expect artists to offer remedy to a faceless, corporate entity void of its own creativity just because they scribbled some squiggles dotted the i;'s and crossed the T's then all that is achieved is artists life's work can no longer be perceived future minds no longer relieved lost generations, not under the wings without knowing our history they wont have eyes to see what it truly means to be part of humanity only the tragedy the system creates gradually look at today's culture and what do we see projected through mainstream none of that was passed down from us it should of always been sus' reeks of mental Psy-op's replaced their legacy with crown chakra disease the virus spreads through mentality so turn off your tvs as the roots of technologies continues the creed defined in MKUltra
they never did plan to close the folder just fine tuned the mind controller so that they could create a new culture that causes mental illness before the children get older but this may be the internet's last legitimate library like that of Alexandria but digitally so we better hurry to make into HARD COPIES let them fly like the autumn leaves Internets saving grace to be shared truth knowledge and history to ALL humans in EVERY country then it can't be deleted by a few typing fingers and these truths are like basics Simple 1s for solid foundations we are all 1 Children of the Sun

as well as Gaia our Pacha-Mama

but they trying to hijack the spirit they want you to fear it and to be hating carbon but that is the atom which all known life is based on the building block for all life as we know it so zero carbon is diabolic sounds like a dead planet or at least from earths understanding they take knowledge then twist it into a dark religion hate fuelled Dogma yet again even though its gone full circle back to paganism they still trying to warp 5D earths vision death is part of life in a natural equilibrium and if mankind's history is forgotten their lies will become a "scientific" Doctrine Matrix farms for making humans these plans are already in view and if we don't share all of earths views than our species may collectively lose without the Union of a Man and Woman our species will become sterile inevitably extinction after a while but that's a worst case scenario hopefully even then we may return though through rebirths we may come back into earths flow Maybe just with a new genetic code that might be more inclined to grow
I'm talking spirit not dough In equilibrium instead of delirium parasitic ways of livin' like a blazing flames destruction burns itself with no fuel for combustion once its consumed all in sight it goes out like a light nothing left to consume but itself such is the self destructive path of malevolence .....this may just be a cycle of tangents..... my feelings became this poem..... and it is a gift no can own it once its left my lips projected into the ether and continued through resonance well.... that's if its heard and felt with spirit sense let it be a part of my creativity to hopefully connect spiritually with brothers and sisters that ill never see but so the legacy will continually elevate consciousness so that we may be higher beings than we are currently being and that's just a dream that i want ALL humans to achieve we are all family and not enemy's we have real power if we could just perceive and we could guide the youth to better our Legacy but without knowing the roots of kultural family Trees they will repeat our mistakes even as new seeds im so off topic into the esoterical the point is without preservation its lost to elementals and the system is using all of its power to make sure all Human Culture is devoured.... but they will turn sour in the final hour we are all just compost, food for the flowers Immortality is real but only through generations continual growth is evolution of elevations anyways ill end on these pearls of wisdom a philosophy shared by ALL religions and that's to truly learn to know thyself new age awareness continues to develop we all have our own life lessons but we can only find self through asking questions and making sure you find your own answers fuck the social norms most of them are spiritual cancers
